Liturgy of the Word for Children is offered during the Sunday 8:30 a.m. Mass for Grades K-4. This is a ritual of prayers that will make the Sunday readings come more alive for our young people. The readings are proclaimed from the Children's Lectionary and the discussion that follows is done in a child user-friendly fashion.

All parishioners and guests are welcome!

About the Liturgy

It has been just about two months since the implementation of the Roman Missal on November 27, 2011.

Hopefully most of us are getting more comfortable with our parts, responding, "And with your Spirit" more often than, "And also with you". As the weeks slide into months, it should get easier and seem more natural.

One process that will take longer, however, is the learning of new sung Mass parts. As you know, the sung Mass parts that have changed are the Gloria, the Holy, the Memorial Acclamation, and, in certain musical settings, the Lamb of God. This means that every time we change our sung Mass parts, the musicians will need to learn and teach the assembly some new parts. As you may have noticed, this is changing our pre-liturgy routine; instead of a sung prelude piece, or time for quiet reflection, the musicians may be asking you to open your books and learn a new piece of music.

The changing of Mass settings is usually seasonal; for example, we used the revised Mass of Creation for Advent and Christmas. Normally, we would have changed to a new setting for Ordinary time, but since we only know one at this point, it stayed the same. However, we would like to change the setting for Lent and Easter, which means learning a new setting. So—the musicians have begun teaching the Mass of the Angels and Saints, which we will use in its entirety for the seasons of Lent and Easter.

After having almost 50 years to build up the repertoire we had been using, we now must start fresh. We hope that you will sing along with us before Mass and use that time to become familiar with the new Mass parts we must all learn. Soon we will have a new repertoire of beautiful Mass parts available and familiar to us—it will just take a little time.

Please refer any questions you may have about the liturgy to Renee Fredel in the Parish Office. The Sacred Worship Commission will do its best to answer your question.

Remember Share Sunday!

January's Food donations go to The Women's Community Food Pantry. Their priority needs are dish soap, tall kitchen garbage bags, paper towels, liquid hand soap dispensers, kid friendly dishes, can openers, food storage containers, coffee and creamers, toilet paper, diapers, wipes, deodorant, Kleenex and non-perishable food.

Dear People of St. Anne's,

"Jesus rebuked the unclean spirit and said: Be still. Come out of the man."
(Mark 1:25) (Gather #990)

There does not appear to be anything "still" about the Penny Carnival. This event that kicks off our celebration of Catholic Schools Week each year is wild and exciting. Many stalls, each with a different game to play or contest to enter, turn McKillip Hall today into a Carnival that yields wide eyes and big smiles from small children and grownups alike. There is good food, too, but the real medicine is in all the good people who come together to enjoy the afternoon. It is just the thing to chase away winter blues, worldly anxieties, and even unclean spirits. Something about simple games, lots of laughter and good people says to the soul: "Be Still. Fear come out."

What is a bit hidden at Penny Carnival will be made perfectly clear on Monday when the whole school gathers in Church for Adoration of the Blessed Sacrament. Here the real presence of God in our lives will be given full attention. Gathering as a whole student body, taking time away from all other activities, singing songs from the heart, uniting voices in prayers of thanksgiving, pondering in prayerful silence, the Eucharist enthroned in the monstrance, all demonstrate the reality that God is with us. Could anything more powerfully say to a young soul: "Be Still. Fear come out."

This whole week will include special activities highlighted by the All School Liturgy with Bishop Callahan Thursday at Newman High School at 9:30 a.m. As beautiful as this gathering will be, it is highlighting the wonderful environment these children experience every day in our Catholic Schools. What could more powerfully rebuke the unclean spirits of our day than a community filled with God's Holy Spirit because it lives in a way based on the values and truths of his Holy Word. From the prayer at the start of each class day, to the assignments in the bible, Christ's voice is heard: Be Still. Fear come out.

It is not only our schools, of course, that bear God's healing word. The parish community does as well. And it is with a desire to make that word heard all the more clearly that we begin a new process for welcoming people into our parish beginning next Sunday.

The often unhappy children and the long list of people who say they want to join but haven't, tell us that asking people to stay an hour and a half after the 10:30 a.m. Mass over the lunch hour is not family friendly programming. We also heard back from people that the attention they got the day they joined was wonderful, but then they were left to find their own way after that. Some felt let down by there being no further outreach once they had "signed up."

Drawing upon the wisdom and experience of Fr. Sweetser, we will begin to welcome new people to our parish in a more hospitable way. Starting next Sunday there will be a volunteer in the parish office between the 8:30 a.m. and 10:30 a.m. Masses and again after the 10:30 a.m. Mass until noon. The commentator at the end of the liturgy will invite anyone who would like to join the parish to stop in the office after Mass. There their registration information will be taken, and they will be given a packet of information.

What could more powerfully rebuke the unclean spirits of our day than a community filled with God's Holy Spirit because it lives in a way based on the values and truths of his Holy Word.

They will also be assigned a Mentor who will call them within the week and set up a time to meet, possibly at Mass the next weekend. Over the following weeks the Mentor will give them a tour of our parish facilities and go through the information packet with them, helping them get connected with the ministries they are looking for. If those joining are a family with children, their Mentors will be a family with children. If a single person joins, a single Mentor will be assigned.

Quarterly or so we will invite all those who have joined the parish to the rectory after the 10:30 a.m. mass for a brunch. This will give me a chance to meet them and for them to size up the pastor. Parish staff will also be invited. We will again check with people that they are finding the ministries here they are looking for. We have enough Sunday volunteers and Mentors to start, but more are most welcome. If you are interested in helping, please call the parish office, Jennifer Gabriel or Jill Warsaw. It will be a most meaningful way to serve. People often come to the parish caught in the unclean spirits of our day. Through you our Lord will speak: Be still. Fear come out.
